

Deliver Smiles with Bundle of Joy® Wristbands

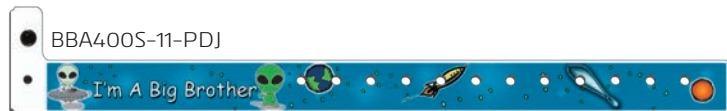

Help Relatives Celebrate & Participate in the Family's Newest Arrival

Having a baby is a joyful occasion for families. There's no doubt that your hospital and caregivers go to great lengths to make the experience memorable and special. Families that have a positive experience in the L&D unit are more likely to choose the same hospital for future medical care. Delight your patients and their families by providing Bundle of Joy Wristbands for newborns' closest relatives. You'll make a positive impression as a caring medical provider while also delivering big smiles to families.

PDC Healthcare developed these wristbands in response to requests from our customers. Many L&D departments have custom printed wristbands with these phrases and now we offer several stock versions to choose from.
