

Do You Know Who is Roaming Your Halls?

You Need to Because Healthcare Workers are 5x More Likely to be Victims of Violence than All Other Occupations Combined[§]

Increase Security & Meet Joint Commission Standards with

Visitor ID Solutions

A Brady Business  BRADY

Where positive identification meets safe, efficient patient care.

The Joint Commission issued a Sentinel Event Alert #45 for "Preventing violence in the health care setting" which emphasized that in light of steadily increasing crime rates, a secure hospital campus is vital to the safety of your patients, staff, and visitors. As a public institution, your facility may usher in dozens or hundreds of visitors every day. Coupled with these facts, the alarming statistics below illustrate why protocols for visitor management are crucial to protect the environment of care.

Why Security Matters

healthcare leads all other industries in workplace violence[‡]

5×

Healthcare & social workers are 5 times more likely to be victims of a non-fatal assault or violent act[§]

60%
of workplace non-fatal assaults occur in healthcare[†]

Best Practices for Managing Visitor Identification

- Actively manage security policies and procedures and measure compliance
- Control access to high security areas or departments that are your biggest concern, such as L&D, ICU, NICU, etc.
- Choose a visitor identification system that meets your security and compliance objectives
- Comply with Joint Commission Standard EC.02.01.01, EP #7: "The hospital identifies individuals entering its facilities"
- Use self-expiring badges to increase security by preventing re-use
- Partner with a reputable identification solutions company, such as PDC Healthcare, which is trusted by over 5,500 U.S. hospitals for our products, people, and services

We can help you create a customized visitor pass or badge to meet your unique needs. Any color, any size, and any imprint!
